We Know Municipalities

Working with TowerCo means having an industry veteran with over 20 years of experience by your side. We've partnered with over 500 cities nationwide, and have the expertise to help you work through the infrastructure process, bring all interested parties together, and build a more prosperous place for everyone.

WHAT WE DO

The transition to 5G has already started. And while it promises great things, we understand the security, funding, and existing infrastructure challenges you and other municipalities face in getting there. We'll help you navigate those challenges and align the interests of your community with the interests of wireless carriers to build successful networks.

5G

5G will make networks exponentially faster, and will offer the ability to connect more devices to the internet without the lag time of a heavily trafficked network. This technology will enhance every facet of our lives from healthcare and education to agriculture and entertainment. Our focus is partnering with you in the plan to get your communities to 5G faster through our expertise, carrier relationships, and nimble processes.

PUBLIC SAFETY

Your community's safety is dependent on reliable service. It's used by first responders like law enforcement, fire services, and EMS to ensure they can respond as quickly as possible to emergencies. Currently, the U.S. Department of Commerce is rolling out a specific broadband network nationwide to manage emergency communications, "FirstNet". TowerCo has experience working with partners to deploy this network, and can do so quickly and efficiently.

LOCAL AND STATE GOVERNMENT

We've worked with hundreds of branches of government to help leverage real estate and construct robust networks. We understand the challenges that local governments face planning a community's future and can offer both financial and infrastructure-related solutions.

ZONING EXPERTISE

Identifying and understanding a community's goals allows TowerCo to design and implement unique infrastructure solutions. We take seriously your commitment to the public and in turn, our commitment to zoning and building infrastructure that is both compliant and enhances the community's overall well being.

HOW WE EMPOWER YOU

We understand how many important voices need to be heard when it comes to community projects. We work with you to bring all interested parties together so everyone's needs are met. Ultimately, we empower you to grow a safer and more prosperous place for everyone.

Meaningful Relationships

Our projects are only successful when we listen closely to your needs and operate as collaborators. We'll look to you for local guidance and you'll always know exactly where things stand.

Deep Knowledge

We don't just listen to the needs of community members, local organizations, and first responders, we propose solutions that meet them. Then, collaboratively, we review the project proposal to ensure everything can move forward as planned before drafting zoning and construction drawings.

3

Problem Solving

Because of the number of factors, variables, and parties involved in a project, each municipality and site has unique strengths and challenges. Our engineers consider all of them, and design network solutions that are custom for every client.

Construction

When it's time to build, we handle every aspect of construction from tower fabrication to fiber installation and inspection.

TowerCo owns, builds, and manages a portfolio of cellular towers and properties. We empower individuals, businesses, and municipalities to connect to what matters.

We develop relationships that last for years. After all — we're in the business of making strong connections. We look forward to connecting with you. Let's talk about how we can be your partner in empowering you to reach your goals.
